SPEAKERS

Dr. Brennan Jacoby
On 'Building Trust'

Details of the talk

The ability to build trust between ourselves, colleagues and clients is invaluable. But matters of trust are also complex. Dr. Brennan Jacoby is a philosopher who believes that in order to build trust well, you first must think carefully about the trust you aim to cultivate. In this talk, Brennan will share insight that both clarifies how trust works and reveals how best to go about building it.

Bio

Dr. Brennan Jacoby is a philosopher, trainer and facilitator known for his ability to help others challenge complex matters for positive change. Brennan's doctoral research focused on trust, and he regularly uses his philosophical approach to help groups build trust and collaborate better. Originally from the USA, Brennan is now based in London and works across public and private sectors in the UK, Europe and North America.

Luisa Baldini
On 'Building a Personal Brand'

Details of the talk

Do we now live in a society where personal brand is more important than ever? What does it actually mean to have a personal brand? As a news correspondent for over 15 years (most recently with the BBC), Luisa Baldini has experienced how colleagues in the media and people that she has interviewed have worked to define themselves. In this talk she will discuss her own brand and look at the importance of understanding the value of a personal brand and how it can be used to influence and make an impact.

Bio

After 12 years as a TV news correspondent at the BBC covering everything from the Amanda Knox trials in Italy to Royal births, Luisa decided to use her core skills to help others find the confidence to present with composure and communicate effectively. Working alongside BBC colleague, Louisa Preston, she launched Composure Media in early 2017. Prior to working at the BBC, Luisa worked at ITV News, Channel 5 News and Euronews in Lyon.
